

AGREEMENT FOR RECIPROCAL MEMBERSHIP PRIVILEGES
BETWEEN THE AMERICAN PHYSICAL SOCIETY
AND THE PHYSICAL SOCIETY OF THE REPUBLIC OF CHINA

The American Physical Society (hereafter, APS) agrees to extend reciprocal membership privileges as defined below to individual members of the Physical Society of the Republic of China (hereafter, PSROC), and the PSROC agrees to extend reciprocal membership privileges as defined below to individual members of the APS.

- 1) Members of the PSROC may submit papers to APS meetings with the same privileges and limitations as APS members;
- 2) PSROC members may register at APS meetings at APS member rates; and
- 3) PSROC members may subscribe to APS journals at the same rates as members of other member societies of the American Institute of Physics (AIP).

Conversely,

- 1) Members of the APS may submit papers to PSROC meetings with the same privileges and limitations as PSROC members;
- 2) APS members may register at PSROC meetings at PSROC member rates; and
- 3) APS members may subscribe to PSROC journals at the same rates as PSROC members.

This agreement shall remain in effect for a minimum of two years following the date below, after which time the terms of the agreement may be reviewed, renegotiated, renewed or terminated if either PSROC or APS so desires.
